

Henfield Hash House Harriers Run #114

Sunday September 21st October 2012 11:30 am
 Cat & Canary
 Henfield

This fine day Nightmare had scouted out a route for the walkers and I had spend the whole morning setting some nice trail around Henfield, it was great to see Tosser, Batman and Gillette but unfortunately that was it. The concensus was that last months overly long run put people off - Please give us your feedback on this as only a few of you have commented that the runs are getting too long.

Nevertheless we all decided to walk trail together with Nightmare as no other walkers were around, a nice hike up around the South Down view. As we went we checked out the old geographic point we found two years ago and yes it was still there, although the last visitors in September forgot to close the box properly and it was filled with water.

Onto Swains where we had Ruddles and Lager to sink a battleship, we drank and toasted and headed back through the woods back into Henfield and the Cat & Canary where we squared up where the walk was given 10 out of 10 - All time first. Hashshit was awarded to Pirate for setting the last run.
